MultiTech Dragonfly™ 4G-LTE Cat 1 Cellular Embedded SoM

Notification Impacts MTQ-LSP3-B03 Sprint Model Only

Effective Immediately

Date: January 26, 2022

I. Summary

Effective Wednesday, January 19th Pelion has exited the Device Management business. In response to this announcement, MultiTech is changing the status for the MTQ-LSP3-B03 cellular SoM with Pelion Device Management support from Generally Available to End-of-Life (EOL) effective immediately.

All other models in the MultiTech Dragonfly family are not impacted by this announcement and will remain in full production.

II. Product Description

The MultiTech Dragonfly™ cellular embedded SoMs and modems are fully certified and MNO approved, ready-to-integrate modules that offer developers the functionality of a programmable computing platform with the convenience of an onboard cellular radio all in one compact design. From a software perspective, Dragonfly is compatible with the Arm® Mbed™ programming platform allowing for rapid prototyping, development and deployment. With its integrated Cortex®-M4 processor, developers can host their application and have access to a full suite of interfaces for connecting sensors or other remote assets.
