Subject: Product End of Life Notification

PCN-22009

Manufacturing Location: Mexico, China

Dear Customer:

This communication is to inform you that the products listed below have reached their End of Life and are being replaced with an existing Part Number with no changes to form fit and function.

The decision was made to simplify the AIPXE Product line by providing one solution that is manufactured from a material that has higher performance specifications.

Since the parts below will no longer be supported, we ask for your help on the following:

1. On your website, properly identify the items listed as Obsolete and provide the appropriate replacement part number.
2. Advice quantity in stock and if willing to return via RMA.
3. Advice your CSR if you would like to order replacement stock under the replacement Part Numbers.

List of items

EOL Life Product Part Number	Replacement Product Part Number
