

S41 Sensor Line Obsolescence Notice

Overview

Datalogic reminds you that the S41 Miniature Sensor Line will be discontinued at the end of year 2018.

The discontinuation of the product line will include also the special products and brand label models, if any.

S41 is replaced by S100 for base models or S45 for more advanced functions.

LAST BUY ORDERS

Last buy orders will be accepted with limited support until end of June 2019. When a product has moved to 'Limited Support' status, parts for sale and repairs are limited to available inventory. Products may be accepted for out-of-warranty repair, but Datalogic cannot guarantee repairs will be completed.

Delivery time will be confirmed at receipt of the specific order. In the event of orders exceeding quantities available, Datalogic may not be able to fulfill all orders.
