1. Purpose

Sumitomo- the raw material manufacture discontinues the green resin but just produces black resin now. The resin is being used for Case component, so we need to change its color from green to black. All properties of black material are the same as green one except the color. there is no change of form-fit-function for finish goods and there is no change of product specification and product performance as well.

2. Overview

Case component part number: 261E01000, the color change from green to black is no impact of material properties. See images below.
